We Must Defend The Constitution

The US Treasury has been auctioned to the highest bidding corporations, financiers and campaign contributors. Institutionalized greed for federal money and influence has cost us our rights, our civil liberties -- and may soon cost us our Republic.

US foreign policy, defense strategy and monetary interventions have birthed tragedy, fear and conflict worldwide. These were THE direct causes of 9/11.

Hunger, homelessness and social decay inexplicably defy solution -- even after decades of social "engineering" and rivers of money that flow endlessly through the Capital.

The government now "protects" us by monitoring our organizations, financial transactions, phone calls and e-mails -- all without warrants or court orders. Americans may soon need a national ID card just to get a job or drive down the street.

Deprived of firearms, the People are defenseless in their homes and businesses, unable to repel either criminals or an increasingly tyrannical government.

The nation is forever enslaved by a national "debt" that can never be repaid because it has been ordained that debt is money, conjured without limit, by a privately held corporation called the "Federal Reserve".

On Veterans' Day weekend, this November, Americans will depart from major cities on the West Coast and head east in their cars and trucks across our nation.

Countless others will join, streaming from states North and South.

The Freedom Drive will continue east, finally converging in Washington DC at Noon, Thursday, Nov. 14th for a rally on the Mall.

Grand Juries are never told by judges that they have the power to independently investigate the government. Trial juries are never told of their right to judge the facts and the law. The courts have become tools of pillage that protect political power, improper private interests and the "status quo."

Under direct threats, including incarceration, we are forced to endure an income tax system that violates virtually every protection of our Constitution.

Former IRS agents, attorneys and others recently testified, under oath, that IRS personnel have NO bona fide, delegated authority in law to assess federal income taxes or seize property or wages. There is hard documentation that IRS personnel routinely and willfully commit crimes to extort taxes.

Although the 1st Amendment guarantees us the right to petition our government, the DOJ and IRS refuse to, and cannot, cite any US law that specifically requires the average American to pay income taxes or to file a return. Untold innocent Americans are in prison and have been financially ruined for failure to pay a tax, that under US law, none of us owe.

Drive to DC and Reign Government Back In.

2002
FREEDOM DRIVE

Join the Congress.
Take the Drive.
